

Your most important tool: the scratchpad

Covered in this section:

Writing down all your ideas

- Grab anything that you could write on, a piece of paper or a document on your computer
- While you're participating in the workshop, if you have some inspiration, you need to write it down immediately - make sure the ideas you get along the way don't go to waste

- You can use Evernote, Google Docs, or any other online platform to keep track of your ideas
